

THOS. BREWER IS KILLED IN HOTEL
AT PORTSMOUTH

Native of Adams County, Well Known in Maysville, Is Killed in Portsmouth Hotel in Argument Over Dry Raid Made There.

Portsmouth, O. — Thomas Brewer, aged 55, a resident of West End and son of Capt. A. W. Brewer of Stouts, O., was almost instantly killed at 7:30 last Tuesday night when he was shot through the body, he passing away as he was being carried out of an ambulance into the Hempstead hospital.

George Stephenson, aged 48, who has a wife and four children, occupies a cell in the city prison and faces a charge of first degree murder, he being accused of firing the fatal shot.

The shooting occurred in the White Bear Hotel, Second and Madison streets and considerable mystery was attached to the affair until Stephenson broke down and admitted before Chief Dietel, Officer Dan Miller and newspapermen that he shot Brewer. When first arrested he steadfastly refused to admit a bullet from his .32 Harrington and Richardson gun had snuffed out the life of Brewer, but when confronted with the fact that there was an empty cartridge in the chamber of his gun he mumbled a few words incoherently and admitted he fired the shot.

Russell Brewer, son of the deceased, is said to have been in a quarrel with Stephenson most of the afternoon, the latter claiming that Brewer amused himself by throwing giant firecrackers at his injured leg. Witnesses testified that late in the afternoon and a few minutes before Tom Brewer appeared on the scene, Stephenson had gone upstairs for his gun. When the elder Brewer came in he asked to have a word with Stephenson who refused, then Brewer is said to have slapped him. It was at this time that the shot was fired which killed Brewer. Stephenson was also shot in the arm by Russell Brewer after he had killed the father and was fleeing into another room. Stephenson claims that the whole trouble started from his informing prohibition officers that the Brewers were bringing liquor into the White Bear, which place was raided the day of the killing.

SUNDAY SCHOOL INSTITUTE TO BE ATTENDED BY MANY

Indications Are That Baptist Sunday School Institute Opening Here on Sunday Will Be Well Attended.

From the number interested in Sunday school work who have indicated their intention of attending the Sunday school institute which will open at the local Baptist church on next Sunday with three expert Sunday school workers in charge, it appears that the institute will be a large and very profitable one.

While this institute is held at the local church, it is designed for all the Baptist Sunday school in Bracken Association and especially those in this immediate section of the association's territory.

There will be normal classes taught in all the Sunday school departments each day and there will be one general address each evening to which the entire public will be invited. Dr. W. A. Gardner, who will be in charge of the institute, is secretary of the Baptist state Sunday school board and recognized as one of the best Sunday school men in the South.

UNION SERVICES ON COURT HOUSE LAWN.

Weather permitting the union service of worship will again be held on the court house lawn at 7:30 Sunday evening. Every one who was present at the services on last Sunday and change for the hot evenings. Committees will see that there are chairs for all so that everyone will be made comfortable. The sermon will be preached by the Rev. W. A. Gardner, a leading Baptist Sunday school worker of the state association. Each church is urged to see that its singers and musicians are on the platform by 7:30 for the song service.

There will be a special meeting of the Police Committee of City Council Friday evening.

CARDINALS TAKE
THURSDAY'S GAME
FROM WINCHESTER

By Score of 3 to 1 Locals Win From Winchester in the First Game of the Last Half With That Club.

The Cardinal defense was too strong for the Winchester Dodger attack and the excellent pitching of Wright, after the first inning went all for naught. It was a good thing for the Cards that Wright was not settled in that first inning or a different tale would be told. For the next seven sessions he was master of the situation without a doubt with 7 strike outs and but four hits with no chance of the Cards to score. Einemann opposed him well on the mound giving but six hits in the nine innings, no inning having more than one hit. The work of Kresser and Slayback around second was sensational and Margerum cut-in with a thriller by robbing McCourt of an extra base hit in the third and doubling Jones off first.

The rumor that scout Billy Doyle was in the stand looking over Harding and Wright must have had some effect on Rasty who seemed a little unnerved at the start of the fray by yielding three runs. Fortner walked, arriving at third on Harding and Slayback's sacrifices. Class singled through second, scoring Fortner. Connolly hit to center and Jones fumbled. Class going to third. Tony stole second, Kresser following with a three-base lick to left bringing in Class and Connolly. Thus ended the first session and Mr. Wright took the situation in hand to teach our boys some of the fine points of the game letting only five men touch the bases.

Class' wild throw that should have retired the side in the fourth was the cause of the visitors' only tally. After McCoy had skied to Fortner and Van Winkle rolled to Slayback, Harris was by the way hits 'em far and wide laced one down the left foul line for two bases. Class played Frazier's grounder perfect but threw low allowing Harris to score.

Notes.
For the second time this year Harding was credited with 20 put-outs at first base, the other occurring several weeks ago. The Cards also had 21 assists which is quite a large number for any game, 14 of these going to Kresser and Slayback whose work around second was tip-top.

Bob Spade, one time a Red and one of the leading pitchers of the National League some fifteen years ago was in charge of the game and gave satisfaction with an occasional miscell of a ball or strike.

Three to one seems to be the favorite score of the Cardinals and Dodgers in the contests between these two clubs. This was the third time this score has been recorded, it having really happened four times, the opening game resulting in a protest also was 3 to 1, and all being Cardinal victories.

Ellis and Frank of the Mt. Sterling club have been released and have signed with Lexington. In Thursday's game Ellis fanned twice with the bases full when Lexington and Paris clashed. Hurst an outcast by the Studebakers made his first appearance with the Mammoths and helped his team to victory with a home run.

Pitcher Riffe, of West Union, Ohio, has returned to the Cards for a second tryout. During the spring training Riffe enjoyed a brief stay with the Cards and showed lots of stuff but little experience. With three games a

MOONSHINE STILL IS CAPTURED IN EASTLAND

Illicit Liquor Factory Found in Eastland Home By Federal Dry Agent and Sheriff Friday Morning.

Captain Harry A. Ort, Federal Prohibition Enforcement Agent, and Sheriff C. M. Devore Friday morning captured a complete moonshine outfit at the home of Frank Duzan in Eastland addition.

The still was set up in an outhouse on the rear of the property occupied by Duzan and from appearances he had just made a run as there was but little liquor found about the premises and there was but a little mash in the barrel used to sour the mash.

The outfit consisted of a six gallon copper wash boiler and a small copper coil through which the liquor was run.

Duzan was not at home when the officers made the raid and he had not been arrested Friday afternoon.

Lexington, Ky., July 13. — Paris played airtight ball and hit in the pinches to defeat Lexington by the score of 4 to 3 here today. Hurst, former Lexington third sacker, playing his first game with Paris, hit a home run with Mann on base in the second inning. Coyle's single in the seventh drove in two more runs for Paris. BROOKSVILLE DEPOT
IS BROKEN OPEN

Strangers in Bracken Capital Ransack Depot But Nothing of Value Is Missing From Freight In Store.

The Bracken County Review says: Brooksville has lots of strangers who come and go in the run of a week. Those with legitimate social or commercial matters at hand are given a hearty welcome and accorded the very best treatment by our citizens.

But let a bunch of ruffraff and rumblers hit town and the scene is changed. Everybody becomes a Sherlock Holmes.

Friday an auto bearing an Ohio license tag drove in town with three men in it. Shortly afterwards two more arrived, coming in from towards Augusta. Try as much as they did to appear at ease they looked suspicious to everyone. In squads of two and three they took in the town, the three making a very scrutinizing inspection of the depot section of town. The two who came in afoot stationed themselves on Main street and begged for money with which to buy something to eat, and were successful in collecting enough for several meals.

About 9 o'clock they took their night's lodging in R. E. Staton's warehouse. Those in the auto went down the Augusta pike about dusk. They returned after midnight and forced open a door of the depot and broke open every box and package. None of the contents were missing which would indicate they were looking for foodstuffs or something more valuable than shoes and other small merchandise. Luckily for the railroad, the extremely large shipment of perishable freight had been removed Friday morning. They made their escape and none knew of the attempted burglary until early Saturday morning when the train crew reported for work.

MRS. RICHARD SOWARD DIES.

Mrs. Richard Sowards, former resident of Mason county, died Thursday at her home at Florence, Ky. The body will be brought here on C. & O. train No. 2 Saturday afternoon and he taken direct to the Maysville cemetery for burial.

ALLEGED FORGER IS CAPTURED IN CINCINNATI HOTEL

D. T. McConit Wanted Here on Forgery Charge, Is Arrested in Hotel At Cincinnati Where He Had Assumed a New Name.

Acting on a tip given them by local police, Cincinnati detectives Friday morning arrested D. T. McConit, wanted here on a charge of forgery, in a Cincinnati hotel where he was registered under the name of A. W. Larkin. McConit is wanted here for forging five checks, on all of which he realized cash from local merchants. On each check he forged a different local man's name and each check was for a different amount, ranging from $6 to $26.

McConit was employed at the Central Garage here for several weeks as a salesman and while here made many friends and procured the confidence of a number of local people. He appeared to be a very clever young fellow and was a good salesman. He left here a few days ago and soon after his leaving the forgeries began to show up. Local police trailed him as far as Ripley but he had left there a few hours before them.

The officers Friday morning learned that he was in Cincinnati operating under the name of A. W. Larkin and they advised Cincinnati detectives by wire. The local police station was advised about noon that the man was under arrest and Officer Carl Carpenter left Friday afternoon to return him here for trial.

FELTUS FINED ON HIS PLEA OF GUILTY.

James Felts was fined $25 and costs in City Court Thursday evening by Judge Harry C. Curran on his plea of guilty. The original charge was assault and battery but upon motion of the prosecution the offense was reduced to a breach of the peace. The original fine assessed was $35 and costs but Judge Curran reduced the amount of the fine to $25. The charge grew out of a fight between Felts and Riley Kennedy, both employees at the local L. & N. station.

HELPTHE OLD FOLKS

A Helping Hand Extended to Many Old People in Maysville.

The infirmities of age are many. Most old people have a bad back. The kidneys are often weak. Or worn out with years of work. Backache means days of misery. Urinary troubles, nights of unrest. Doan's Kidney Pills have helped to make life easier for many.

Charles Kennan, retired farmer, 81 Wood street, Maysville, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills several different times within the last few years and never had them fail to do me good. My kidneys were in bad shape. The secretions were unnatural and burned terribly in passage. My back kept me in misery during the time the attack lasted and I was feeling generally run down. I went to Wood & Son's Drug Store and got a couple of boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and began using them. Doan's reached my case at once and cured me up in god shape. I have always relied upon Doan's since and a few now and then regulate my kidneys and keep them in good condition." Price 60 cents, at all dealers. THE HANDWRITING ON THE WALL

July 16, Daniel 5.

TEMPERANCE LESSON.

Golden Text—"God will bring every work into judgment, with every hidden thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil."—Ecc. 12:14.

The feast that cost Belshazzar his kingdom.

1. Belshazzar. — The great king Belshazzar was the son, or near relative of Nebuchadnezzar (Dan. 5:2) I was during the siege of Babylon (B. C. 538) that he gave a gorgeous feast in his palace. From all indications he was a man of great wealth. He was not effeminate. He was a hard-headed business man. A leader of men. As a ruler he had exceptional ability. But he used his wealth in evil living. His pride led him to believe that he could take the consecrated vessels from the temple of the Lord and defile them by base usage. While outwardly this great king could handle the affairs of the government, he was personally a debased young ruler.

2. A Gorgeous Scene.—Belshazzar the king made a great feast to a thousand of his lords and drank wine before them all. His palace was a wonder to the world for beauty. The walls were beautiful and adorned with images of gorgeous colorings. About the feast came the women in gay attire, with their music and dances. Wine flowed freely. Intoxication became no disgrace. He dared to do that that Nebuchadnezzar had never done.

3. Profane Reveling.—Alas for the son who forgets the prayers of his father and disappoints his mother's wishes, while they drank on, Belshazzar ordered that the sacred vessels be brought that he with the rest might drink from them! One can easily see that intemperance leads to irreligion. Sabbath desecration, profanity, and disobedience of every law of God. The saloon and its followers hold nothing sacred, not only trampling on God's law but disregarding all law.

4. The Ghostly Hand.—Oud God is wonderfully faithful. Faithful to the end. Oh that men would listen to the checks of His Spirit in their lives. Even sinners must have a last warning and a chance to repent. Belshazzar was seated upon his bejeweled throne. A weird hand appeared. It wrote upon the white stucco of the wall. The golden chandeliers with their brilliantly lighted lights glittered brightly, yet brighter shone this ghostly hand writing the destiny of the great king. Perchance God is now writing some of our destinies while we are eagerly in search for worldly pleasure. No young man ever becomes a drunkard in our day but what a warning hand is held out to him. It may be a father's prayer of a mother's entreaty or even the example of an awful drunkard throwing his life away, that becomes a warning hand to some, yet we are all warned in some way.

5. The King Undone.—This proud and boastful king is now terror-stricken, poor and subject. He tries, but cannot read the dreadful writing. The slings of a lifetime confront him. He trembles visibly. He unties the jeweled bands of his attire. His knees quake. He cried aloud like a poor victim of delirium tremens! Conscience holds before him a life of hideous sins. Note the contrast between his cowardly now, and the courage of the three Hebrew children when thrown into the fiery furnace. Alcohol is a tyrant and has made a slave of this young king and blighted all his hopes. Belshazzar cries to the soothsayers and astrologers for help but no one of them could give him aid. Let us say with the Hebrew children "Our God whom we serve is able to deliver us."

6. His Motherly Wife.—Like all good women, his wife, does not approve of this sinful reveling and therefore was not present but as all faithful wives, the little queen comes to the banquet, having learned of the king's distress. A true wife is the dearest friend. She enters, discovers the king writhing in anguish. I imagine I can see her slip her tender and loving hand upon his feverish brow, as she announces to him: "There is a man here who will be able to read this fearful writing for he has done it for thy father and in him was found wisdom like that of the gods!" What comfort she brings to his troubled soul!

7. Daniel Before the King.—Glibly the king made his promises but Daniel who was able to rate earthly things in their true value, waves them aside—"The world offers nothing of value comparable with the rewards which God bestows upon His children."

8. Weight and Wanting.—The young king in his pride gave praise to false gods which see not, nor hear, nor know; profaned the holy vessels of the Lord, and insulted the Most High! Daniel as a true servant of the Lord declares the awful sentence: "Thou art weighed in the balances and art found wanting; thy kingdom is divided and given to the Medes and Persians," and in the weary hours of that dreadful night Belshazzar the king of the Chaldeans went into eternity.

Will your record be "found wanting" or "found trusting"?

Murray. — J. W. Dyer, 82, Confederate soldier and community character, was found dead in his bed. "Uncle Joe" as he was popularly called, settled on the bank of the Tennessee River after the civil war. PURCHASES BULLETIN BOARD.

The Little Brick church has just purchased a new bulletin board. Have you seen it? It has been placed on the front of the church and preaches a sermon in a sentence. Many have already commented favorably regarding it. Has it helped you with its message? If so drop me a card of encouragement. The plan is to have a new sermon sentence each day.

NEW PLANS FOR PRAYER MEETING.

ING AT LITTLE BRICK CHURCH.

The new plan adopted by our church for prayer meeting is the Grace Saxe method of Bible study. Miss Saxe is the Bible teacher in the Billy Sunday evangelistic campaign work and her method is finding popular approval in many of the cities of the northland.

In Detroit she succeeded in getting some of the card parties to adopt the method for a three day trial with the result that each exclaimed that they never knew that the Bible was so interesting. It is now a very common thing to see the business men of Detroit, Mich., with a small Testament reading the assigned chapter for discussion at one of these prayer meetings.

Friends, we do not study our Bible enough. Some of us do not study it at all. Many would like to study it but cannot understand it. A man today who does not have a knowledge of the Bible is pitifully ignorant. Yes, pitifully ignorant! No book today is discussed in popular circles like the Bible is. Its discussions were so interesting that Hon. Wm. J. Bryan has entered to champion one side of the discussion.

We should know the Bible that we might have a mete to measure our lives, and find out the secrets of life. When the Bible finds its way into our hearts we would die for its truths.

For those who would like to study the Bible with us, whether you are a college graduate or not, for all have an equal chance, we want you to read the third chapter of the Acts of the Apostles. Then answer the following questions:

1. What is the principal subject? Many people read a chapter and cannot tell what they have read. What is it talking about?
2. What is the leading lesson? Many lessons are taught but what is the leading one to you?
3. What is the best verse? Suppose you will never see your Bible again.
4. Who are the principal persons? Do any of the verses teach anything about Christ?
6. Is there an example that I should follow?
7. Is there any error I should avoid?
8. Is there any duty I should perform?
9. Is there a promise I should claim?
10. Is there a prayer I should claim?

By prayerfully applying these questions to the chapter under discussion a great variety of answers are considered and the interest is most intense at times. If interested in the Bible come next Thursday evening. Last week about forty were present.

C. H. RAYL, Pastor.

CURED BY NATIVE HERB.

On board a vessel bound for India recently a man was bitten by a poisonous reptile; both the ship doctor and a famous surgeon failed to control the poison fast spreading through his system.

In a day the vessel reached port. An Indian medicine man was sent for, who produced a native herb which quickly allayed the poison and the man's life was saved.

Roots and herbs are nature's assistants in combating disease. That well-known medicine for ailments peculiar to women Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, is prepared from roots and herbs, possessing medicinal properties of great value to the treatment of such ailments.

This is proved by the letters of recommendation we are continually publishing in this paper for it.

Mr. Horace Kendall, of Dayton, Ohio is here for a visit with his uncle, Mr. J. L. Nicholson, of Limestone street.

Mr. Grant Sanders, of Paris, Ky., has returned home after visiting Geobal Baugh of East End.

Miss Margaret Otto, of Springdale, was meeting her many friends in Maysville Friday.

Mrs. E. P. Lee and sons are spending a few weeks with relatives in Central Kentucky.

MIDDLEMAN FINED HEAVILY.

B. N. Middleman, Market street pool room proprietor, was fined a total of $175 and costs in City Court Friday afternoon. On the first case in which he was charged with a breach of the peace a jury was demanded and the jury assessed a fine of one hundred dollars and costs upon a plea of guilty. A plea of guilty was also made to charges of drunk and disorderly and operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated. On the first charge Judge Curran assessed a fine of $25 and costs and on the second a fine of $50 and costs. The entire trouble grew out of Middleman's resisting arrest several evenings ago, his attorney stated to the jury that the whole trouble was caused by drunkenness.

Miss Mary J. Harting, of Covington, is visiting Miss Helen Dinger of Sutton street.
